

Keshet

LGBTQ Families with Young Children Online Programming

TO REGISTER FOR PROGRAMS, VISIT
keshetonline.org/FwYC

Preserving the Harvest: A Pickle Primer for LGBTQ Families

Sunday, October 4
2:00 – 3:00 pm Eastern / 11:00 am – noon Pacific

Learn to preserve the harvest with Keshet and Adamah Farm! Lacto-fermentation, the oldest form of food preservation, uses water and salt to turn cucumbers and cabbage into sour dills and sauerkraut! This family-friendly, online workshop explores the science and culture of lacto-fermentation through a Jewish lens, just in time for Sukkot. Follow along with the pickling demonstration at home and make your own!

You will receive a Zoom link and supply list with your registration.

Drag Story Hour - Thanksgiving!

Sunday, November 22
2:00 – 3:00 pm Eastern / 11:00 am – noon Pacific

Back by popular demand! Join Boston's preeminent Jewish drag troupe, Turmohel, and performers from Storytime with Drag Kings, Queens, and Friends for a story hour! This event will feature beloved circus stars, dancers, drag performers, and friends reading from their favorite children's books, with a focus on family diversity and LGBTQ Jewish themes. Sometimes there's juggling, sometimes there's dancing ... ALWAYS lots and lots of smiles for kids, big and small, and kiddos at heart!

Urban Farming and Sukkot for LGBTQ Families

Sunday, October 18
2:00 – 3:00 pm Eastern / 11:00 am – noon Pacific

This interactive workshop will focus on indoor container gardening in any environment! Nate Looney, the CEO of Westside Urban Gardens and Phoenix Farms, will share tips for getting your family started, best practices for hobby gardeners and projects you can do to engage the whole family in agriculture. Nate will weave together his agricultural and Jewish wisdom in this one-of-a-kind workshop.

Babka for Beginners - LGBTQ Family Baking Workshop

Sunday, November 8, 2:00 – 3:00 pm Eastern / 11:00 am – noon Pacific

Learn to bake babka!

We will review kneading tips and tricks plus learn 2 different methods for making delicious chocolate babka. This online, interactive workshop for families will be led by baker, Mandy Silverman, founder of Mandylicious: The Challah Guru. She is a "carbologist" with over 250 kosher unique challah bread and babka flavors!

Following along with the recipe is optional, but an ingredient list will be sent with registration.

Menorahs & Pakoras! A Hanukkah Cooking Event for LGBTQ Families

Sunday, December 13
2:00 – 3:00 pm Eastern / 11:00 am – noon Pacific

Join chef, travel writer, and photographer Shulie Madnick as she demonstrates how to make vegetable pakoras for Hanukkah this year! Shulie will share Indian Jewish traditions inspired by her family's history in Mumbai and Israel, and her food and travels around the world. Families can cook along with the demonstration or simply watch Shulie. Following along with the recipe is optional, but an ingredient list will be sent with registration.

Registration is limited for this program!

We look forward to welcoming your family.

QUESTIONS? EMAIL

Jaime Brody at jaime@keshetonline.org

Keshet
קשת

For LGBTQ equality in Jewish life